Wangari Maathai Institute for Peace and Environmental Studies cannot fulfill its ambitious vision of, “Excellence in experiential learning, transformational community outreach, and research for sustainable environments and cultures of peace,” without key partners. Towards this end, the Institute therefore, continues to forge strategic alliances with both local and international partners in implementing its mandate. On December 18, 2018, the WMI held a fruitful meeting with the County Executive Committee Member, Environment and Chief Officer for Environment, Tharaka Nithi County to discuss potential areas of collaborations including evidence based research among others for environmental sustainability.
