The Wangari Maathai Institute cannot fulfill its ambitious vision of, “Excellence in experiential learning, transformational community outreach, and research for sustainable environments and cultures of peace,” without key partners. The Institute continues to value and forge partnerships which are critical to the elevation of its standing both locally and globally.

It was exciting to host Prof. F. Swanepoel, from the University of Pretoria, South Africa in a meeting held on January 22, 2018 at the WMI offices which enabled discussion of potential partnership in the areas including; sustainable agriculture, food nutrition and security, bio-safety economy, human rights on continent, life sciences among others.
