

Wangari Maathai Institute participates in the 7th Conference on Climate Change and Development in Africa (CCDA-VII) – October 10-12, 2018

Prof. Henry M. Mutembei, Director WMI during the panelist discussions

The Wangari Maathai Institute was honoured to participate in the 7th Conference on Climate Change and Development in Africa (CCDA-VII) held on October 10-12, 2018 at the Safari Park Hotel in Nairobi. The conference was organized by the African Climate Policy Centre (APC) in collaboration with the Pan-African Climate Justice Alliance, Think Renewables and the World Meteorological Organization. Prof. Henry M. Mutembei, Director, Wangari Maathai Institute delivered his presentation on how migrations and mobility induced by climate change contribute to conflicts alongside other presenters.

The conference brought together diverse stakeholders from across the globe including the Policymakers and technocrats, the African Group of Negotiators on climate change and

Wangari Maathai Institute for Peace and Environmental Studies

Gabon, Research institutions and Scientists, Civil Society Organizations, Development partners, International Organizations and the Private Sector.

CCDA-VII- ongoing

The stakeholders convened to advance discussions on the continent's Nationally Determined Contributions (NDCs) besides definition of the actionable climate interventions and sharing of the knowledge on the theme under theme dubbed 'Supporting the Implementation of the Paris Agreement in Africa: From Policies to Action.